

---

---

Dr. Chung,

Thank you for your assistance, your insights, and for exposing me to data mining - from concepts to applications. I can already envision various ways to apply this knowledge in my new career. I also appreciate your willingness to assist me although I can be coarse, and your willingness to incorporate some student suggestions into the presentation of the course material. Your class was definitely challenging, and I believe I benefitted from both the positives and the negatives of this experience.